

OPEN CALL for artists | LONG DURATIONAL PERFORMANCE

LOCATION: Athens

NEON and Marina Abramovic Institute are seeking established and practicing Greek artists working in all forms of performance to create new long-durational performances for an exhibition in March and April 2016. As part of the show, Marina Abramović and a small team will be curating a group of durational performance artists to perform for the whole length of the exhibition. Artists must be born or based in Greece.

Applicants must submit a PDF including 5 works with images, description and biography to the following email: neon.mai2016@gmail.com.

Please include details of video links and websites and write on the subject of your email the word 'Artist' followed by your name. An artist fee will be provided to participants. Deadline for submissions is December 3, 2015.

The application should be sent in English as the selection will also be made by English speaking persons, experts on the Abramovic Method.

About NEON

NEON, is a non-profit organization, which works to bring contemporary culture in Greece closer to everyone. It is committed to broadening the appreciation, understanding, and creation of contemporary art in Greece in the firm belief that this is a key tool for growth and development.

NEON, founded by Dimitris Daskalopoulos, breaks with the convention that limits the contemporary art foundation of a collector and enthusiast to a single place. It acts on a multitude of initiatives, spaces, civic and social contexts. It seeks to expose the ability contemporary art has to stimulate, inspire and affect the individual and society at large.

NEON constructively collaborates with cultural institutions and supports the program of public and private institutions to enhance increased access and inventive interaction with contemporary art.
