

Jamais vu vs Déjà visité

"Jamais Vu" a pop-up performance by Natasa Sarantopoulou and Ioanna Antonarou in the context of the exhibition "Déjà visité" by the visual artist Periklis Pravitas at the Ekfrasi - Gianna Grammatopoulou art gallery.

Natasha Sarantopoulou and Ioanna Antonarou, as well as the visual artist Periklis Pravitas, delve through their work into the spectrum of the familiar and the uncanny. This is their meeting point. As if they were visitors or as if they had always been there, the two performers are sighted in the exhibition's venue, and they engage with Pravitas's fragile work - always "following protective rules and protocols". As they self-induce peculiar movement occurrences, they fail to habituate their own body and its mechanics. That way they initiate the creation of a paradoxical, undefined movement language that seeks to approach pointlessness through an awkward naivety.

Company Biography

Natasa Sarantopoulou and Ioanna Antonarou graduated together from the State School of Dance in 2012. They followed separate paths until they met again in 2017 and created their first choreographic work entitled "Walk Lola Walk" which was presented in various venues in Greece and abroad (Art Platform of Young Artists / Piraeus Municipal Theater, 10th International Contemporary Dance Festival ARC FOR DANCE FESTIVAL, DanceFest Akropoditi 2018, Zante Dance Festival 2018, MOVEDANCEFESTIVAL 2018 / Hamar, Norway). In 2018 they were sponsored by the Ministry of Culture for their next work "It's better in the Bahamas" which premiered at the 11th International Contemporary Dance Festival ARC FOR DANCE FESTIVAL and later presented at DanceFest Akropoditi 2019. In collaboration with the artist Periklis Pravitas they present their new pop-up performance "Jamais vu" at the Ekfrasi-Gianna Grammatopoulou gallery with the support of NEON Organization for Culture and Development.
